

IBM Innovation Center Chicago's 10 Year Anniversary Celebration!

Thursday
November 5, 2009

The Chicago IBM Innovation Center will be celebrating its 10th Anniversary Celebration on Thursday, November 5th, 2009, and you're invited to see what the future technology opportunities are as part of IBM's smarter planet leadership agenda. Sharpen your skills; network with IBM executives and peers; and enjoy an educational and social event that promises to offer exciting sessions on industry, technology and solutions.

When: Thursday, November 5th, 2009
Informational sessions begin at 1:00pm, with Social/Networking from 5:00 - 8:00pm
Cocktails and appetizers will be served.

Where: IBM Innovation Center, 71 South Wacker Avenue, 6th Floor, Chicago, IL 60606

The IBM Innovation Center offers an extraordinary events venue with access to leading edge technology, and development of leading-edge solution and technology skills with informative workshops and seminars. It has served the greater Chicago-land area by advocating innovation, demonstrating collaboration for solution development, and fostering personal and business opportunity development through our award winning facility and dedicated professional staff.

If you are an IBM Business Partner, developer, professor, student, small-midsize business owner, business executive, or technical professional, this event is for you, and one you simply can not miss!

The event will have an open house agenda — come at any time and stay as long as you like.
